COMPLETING PLANS FOR NATIONAL WAR FUND DRIVE

To Start October 9 And Continue Through October Twenty-Eighth

Plans are being completed for the National War Fund Drive which will open October 9 and continue through October 28.

There is a growing belief that the Allies in Europe, now piling up success, may bring about an early defeat of the Nazis but this early termination of the need of service rendered by the Agencies of the National War Fund.

Advices recently received from officials of the nineteen Agencies of the War Fund serve to indicate that for some time following the end of the conflict in Europe their activities will be expanded.

The National War Fund offers opportunity to the American people to give, not lend, for our own and for our allies and asks everyone of us to share in this common effort to prove that those on the home front stand ready to sacrifice, and thus strengthen the will to win which eventually must mean total victory, paving the way for sound peace.

Through our chairman, block leaders and Scouts we hope this year to reach every citizen of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County. The needs for funds will be great as the war progresses, our own fighting men have set the example—they not only give but they share. Before they went into the battle of Tarawa the tenth regiment of the Marines sent three hundred dollars to the National War Fund.

Joe E. Brown back from 100,000 miles of travel with our troops on every front says "These men make friends wherever they go, and share their own rations with the hungry and starved people they are liberating."

They share—we can too.

Low Grade Lumber Sold On Uncertified Orders Up To Sept. 30

Low grade of Southern yellow pine and all species of hardwood, as well as culls and rejects, may be sold to distributors and consumers on uncertified orders, up to September 30, provided their sale does not interfere with filling retail orders.

"Low grades" were defined as No. 4 and lower for Southern pine, and No. 3 and lower for hardwoods.

B. F. Sheppard, Chief of the Regional War Production Board's lumber section, explained Tuesday that the above provisions were made in Washington last week through direction 6 of WPB's L-335 lumber order, because it was found that these lower grades of lumber are accumulating in the hands of lumber suppliers. Lumber users have purchased higher grades of lumber with their limited authorizations, it was learned, leaving the lower quality in the mill yards.

It was emphasized, however, that culls and rejects may not be sold as such if the supplier charges more than 75 percent of the price allowed him by the Office of Price Administration for the lowest grade of the same species.

Mr. Sheppard further pointed out that direction 6 permits sawmills to place such lumber in transit to fill uncertified orders until September 30, and that distributors may continue to sell it beyond that date if it was put in transit by their suppliers prior to October 1.

Turkey For Soldiers

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 12—Turkey for the soldiers' Thanksgiving dinner—one of the time-honored traditions of the Army—will be a fact again on Thanksgiving Day, November 23 and every man will have a generous portion.

This was revealed today at Headquarters, Fourth Service Command with the statement the War Food Administration is making certain that there will be enough turkeys for purchase by the Quartermaster Corps with a restriction on the turkey sales until requirements are met.

Despite the demand for the Army, however, it is explained that the production has been so great that no difficulty is anticipated in filling civilian needs.

ST. STANISLAUS OPENS 91ST. SESSION

A record enrollment marked the opening of the ninety-first session at Saint Stanislaus. On that day a total of three hundred and ninety one pupils commenced what should prove to be a banner year in the history of Saint Stanislaus.

Of the total enrollment 252 boys are boarding students and 139 day students. This represents an increase over last year of 16 boarding students and 25 day students. Limited facilities was the hindrance to any greater increase. All classes are at capacity.

The roster of students contains the names of boys from many states: Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Texas, New Jersey, New York, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Missouri, Georgia, the Bahama Islands and several of the Latin American Republics are also represented. The Day Students are represented by boys from the Coast area as far as Gulfport.

No new courses have been added to the curriculum, and as in former years particular stress is being laid on Mathematics and science. Football has been resumed after a year's lapse. About thirty-five candidates are now hard at work preparing for the opening game against Saint Aloysius of New Orleans. The Sidelines Club has been revived and the first regular meeting was held Tuesday night, Sept. 12.

CITY WILL NOT CLEAN SIDEWALKS; PROPERTY OWNERS DUTY

The Mayor has asked that we call to the attention of the property owners that it will be necessary in the future for the owners to clean the sidewalks in front of their property.

The city will clean to the curb line and from there it becomes the duty of the property owner to keep his place clean, states the Mayor. Mayor Blaize, further stated that in the past when labor could be had it was a pleasure for him to assist property owners, but that conditions are such that it is impossible to secure the necessary labor, even to care for the proper upkeep of the street, and to take care of the garbage collection. He feels that all should have civic pride enough to care for their property and to keep it in a presentable condition.

Cotton Takes Place Of Leather

Atlanta, Ga., September 12—Cotton from the farms of Dixie was the means by which the Ordnance Department saved over $5,000,000 by using canvas webbing instead of leather to manufacture the slings for Army rifles, according to records at Headquarters, Fourth Service Command.

Though the Army did not say anything about it at the time, the story opened two years ago when leather was a critical item and a desperate effort was being made to save it by substituting other materials. The leather slings were used to carry the rifles slung over the soldier's shoulder and for steadying the weapon for highly accurate fire.

Rigid tests of web slings, made of cotton, were ordered and they proved to be satisfactory. A total of 13,942,747 web slings were ordered, tested for moisture, mold and jungle conditions. Many tons of leather were saved and each web sling cost 40 cents less than one made of leather, adding up to over five and a quarter million dollars for Uncle Sam to spend on other war materials.

The work of making Surgical Dressings has been long and tireless during the extreme hot weather of the past summer. However, every good effort has its reward and that following is certainly a reward to those women who worked diligently through the long hot days. Quote: "We have good news for all Surgical Dressings Units in Southeastern Area. For the past ten weeks we have led all other areas in the percentage of shipped dressings. For establishing and maintaining this splendid record may we extend to you and to all your volunteers our congratulations. Yours are truly 'font-line dressings' serving in our field hospitals throughout the world. We know you will want to carry on your enviable record until every single dressing has been completed."

This is part of the contents of a letter received by your Chairman of Volunteer Special Services, and she would like the thanks which it conveys to be passed on to every worker. There is still a vast amount of work to be done in this Unit, as bandages are too much in demand, so until the last shot of this terrible war has been fired, remember there can be no let down in this important work. Your record is a very good one. Keep it up to par.

SOME WILL NOT TAKE ADVICE

ON June 19, 1942, we commented as follows:

"Much has been said lately, relative to the sale of liquor to men in the armed service of our country, and that some action must be taken to control it.

"During the last war, the law prohibited the sale of liquor to men in uniform. In our opinion, this did very little good, for it was an easy matter for the men in service to have someone purchase package liquor for them and there was as much drinking among the service men after the enactment of that law as before.

"We can readily see the harm in selling too much liquor to our service men. One of the most abhorrent spectacles that one can behold, is to see a man in the uniform of the army or navy of this country, wallowing in the streets and public places in a drunken condition. In our opinion, this man has no respect for his uniform, nor for his country. We feel that once a man puts on that uniform, that he should respect it and his behavior should be such that it would command the respect of all people with whom he comes in contact.

"Recently we noticed the actions and the demeanor of some of the men in the service. The majority of these young men comport themselves as gentlemen. However, there are some few who are prone to imbibe just a little too freely, and, of course, this then casts a reflection on all of the men in uniform.

The principal fault, of course, lies with the person engaged in the sale of liquor. We have always been of the opinion and still are, that this country would never have had a prohibition law, if it had not been for the actions of the men engaged in the sale of liquor. This remains true today. If another prohibition statute is enacted, it will be brought about by the people engaged in this business.

We believe that it is far better to have the open sale of liquor where the same can be, and should be regulated, in preference to having the "Blind Tigers" where there would be absolutely no control, with our young sneaking in and out, drinking the famous brand of "Pop Skull" that would make one fight a wild cat.

"It is our belief that if a soldier wishes to take a drink, that he should be allowed to go to a bar and take this drink, and that the bar tender should exercise enough judgment to discontinue selling liquor to the man, if he shows signs of becoming drunk. We believe that no package liquor should be sold to any soldier, or to any person when it is believed that this person is buying it for a soldier. If this practice were put into effect we believe that it would not be long before the element seeking to have national prohibition statute enacted would cease their fight.

"Of course, Mississippi is a dry State and we are not supposed to have any bars; nevertheless occasionally we might see one, but a word of advice to the boys who are operating bars in this locality, is to keep the boys in uniform sober. Do not allow them to become intoxicated in your place of business and do not sell them, or anyone for them, package liquor which would allow these boys to become intoxicated.

"The people of the Coast are of very liberal thought, and a great majority are in favor of open bars, and do not believe in doing behind closed doors, what they would not do in public. However, they are not going to tolerate, nor condone the actions of unscrupulous people in the sale of liquor in excess to men in service.

"Accept a little advice and cure this situation yourself."

Since this time we have not changed our ideas as set out in the editorial above. We have always been of very liberal thought and believe that the majority of the people of the Gulf Coast are the same. The men who operate the bars in this section have taken little heed to the advice that has been offered them on numerous occasions and from various sources, and conditions that exist at the present time are such that it will be necessary that some action be taken to clear up a condition which is not good for this, or any other community.

Our beach front has become nearly the equal of the "Bar-bary Coast." Little did we ever dream that the time would come when we could not allow our wives and daughters to go unescorted, even to the picture show, but this is the situation that exists at the present time. Drunks in and out of the bar rooms are allowed to crowd the sidewalks in front of these establishments, fights go on between men and women, and persons of questionable character are allowed to hang around these places, having created a situation that must definitely be cleared up in this community.

The people of Bay St. Louis love and cherish their city. Lasting memories have been indelibly imprinted on the minds of many people, their forefathers having lived here for generations, and we do not believe that the time has come when the people of Bay St. Louis will allow a few interlopers to come in and carry on businesses that tend to destroy all that the people have lived and hoped for—the right to live as they wish and to rear and educate their families in the proper manner and under the proper influence. With conditions as they are, this is an impossibility.

This is a job for the peace officers of Hancock County and Bay St. Louis, and unless they take some definite action, they may rest assured that necessary steps will be taken to remove these nuisances.

GASOLINE: A-12 coupons now valid. Expire September 21. Renewals being made now. The new books will contain six coupons of each series, each coupon worth four gallons. Rationing rules now require that every car owner write his license number and state on all gasoline coupons in his possession, as soon as they are issued him by his rationing Board.

Housewives of the Southeast are expected to save more than a million dollars annually as the result of a board campaign against upgrading of butter now being waged by the Office of Price Administration.

The savings are expected to result in various decreases in retail prices of creamery butter. OPA explained that almost all creamery butter sales in the Southeast since wartime shortages developed has been sold at top-grade, or "premium" prices. Such quantity of top-grade creamery butter supply does not exist, OPA asserted in saying that investigators are checking all creamery butter sold throughout the United States and bringing prices within the proper grade.

The action does not effect "country" butter generally sold ungraded, OPA said.

District OPA Director W. E. Holcomb said today investigators are probing sales of feeds in the Mississippi district in answer to complaints by poultrymen, dairymen and stockmen that maximum price regulations are being violated.

At the same time Major Holcomb said OPA recently instituted a treble-damage action against the Ralston-Purina Company in St. Louis, Mo., alleging overcharges on sales of mixed seeds, some of which sales were allegedly made to consumers in this district. OPA has also asked that the company be enjoined from

WHAT OF PEACE?

Many will die in the hard fighting ahead before we achieve the unconditional surrender of Germany and Japan. The war is not over.

Much of our sacrifice of blood and treasure in this conflict is because we were not prepared for it. If we are caught as unprepared for peace, we shall undergo another shock. Woe to that individual who has not cast one eye upon the future and planned to meet the changes that will come to his job, his business and his community.

Community leadership is needed as never before if jobs are to be ready for our returning veterans. Individual resourcefulness is essential if business is to continue without confusion or calamity.

There is heavy fighting ahead on the home front; we have a war to pay for and the peace to win. There never was an easy way to financial independence or security. Economic stability is the reward for sane thinking and hard work. Only through production and thrift can we solve the problems of the future.

The prosperity we now have on the Mississippi Gulf Coast is war-made. The prosperity we are to enjoy will be man-made. When this artificial boom shall have passed, we will be forced to do for ourselves what our government and the war emergency have done for us.

Your bank is mindful of the struggles to come, and its resources are available for the sound, conservative and orderly development of the Coast country. You can count on its cooperation as we together create a more normal and enduring prosperity.

As we fight and pray for an early and victorious peace, we face the future with courage and confidence. Upon the bedrocks of economic freedom, individual initiative, expanding opportunity, capacity production and increasing thrift, we will build a more thriving section. When the war is over our fight on the home front shall have just begun.

To offset unfavorable weather conditions, the Office of Price Administration has allowed Irish potatoes to growers in a group of states including Tennessee, Georgia, North and South Carolina and Virginia an increase for the period of September 1-September 16 of 90 cents per hundred pounds over originally established shipping point ceiling prices for the month of September.

From September 17 through September 30 country shippers in the same area may add 45 cents per hundred pounds to the same established maximum prices for September.

Removal of several processed foods from rationing September 17 does not mean that these items will be removed from price control, W. E. Holcomb, district director of the Office of Price Administration said today.

Maximum price regulations affect all the items to be removed from rationing and are not likely to be lifted soon, he emphasized.

Processed foods to be removed from rationing include jams and jellies, fruit butters and the following canned vegetables and related products, asparagus, fresh lima beans, corn, peas, pumpkin and squash, mixed vegetables, baked beans, tomato sauce, tomato paste or puree, soups and baby foods.

Commenting on the action, District OPA Director said: "The decision to take these foods off rationing was a decision of the War Food Administration which has the responsibility of determining when there are adequate supplies of food to allow removal from rationing. The action has been taken quickly and there may be some inconvenience to the trade and the consumer at first; but we are doing everything we can to see that this move is put into effect in as orderly a manner as possible."

Coal and wood heating and cooking stoves will be removed from rationing to consumers, October 15, W. E. Holcomb said today.

Oil and gas stoves, however, will continue to be rationed. Local War Price and Rationing Boards will continue to issue rationing certificates to eligible applicants until that date, but quota restriction will be removed immediately. Dealers and distributors may continue to use certificates with orders placed up until November 1.

OPA said civilian supplies of the specified types of stoves are now ample enough to allow lifting of rationing restrictions.

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY "FOLLOW THE BOYS"

George Raft, Vera Zorina, with Fifty Guest Stars including Jeanette MacDonald, Dinah Shore, Sophie Tucker, Marlene Dietrich

"Follow the Boys," Universal's widely-heralded all-star film which plays Sunday and Monday at Ortte Theatre, is something more than a pictorial parade of some two score of Hollywood's greatest personalities, although it is all of that.

Such names as George Raft, Vera Zorina, Orson Welles, Marlene Dietrich, Jeanette MacDonald, Dinah Shore, W. C. Fields, Sophie Tucker, Donald O'Connor, the Andrews Sisters, Charles Butterworth, Maria Montez and Susanna Foster in the same cast attest to that.

"Follow the Boys," for its sheer entertainment content, is as good a piece as Hollywood has turned out in this war. But additionally notable is the wisdom of Producer Charles K. Feldman in providing a human story as well, about which to weave the history of the show world, from the demise of vaudeville to the present day.

Romance Further strengthening the fabric of the entertainment-laden film is an appealing romantic theme, involving George Raft and lovely Vera Zorina who are co-starred.

"Follow the Boys" faithfully records the contributions of show people to morale at home and abroad, and sketches the founding and the functions of the Hollywood Victory Committee. That record needs no embellishment, and the film attempts none. It is traditionally American, tastes, from boogie-woogie to the plain John Doe, in its treatment.

Sometimes an obsolete or out-moded policy represents false hopes, too. Let us check your portfolio of policies to see if they provide all the current advantages.

It is, at the same time, as dazzling an assemblage of famous stars as Hollywood has ever come up with and for this reviewer there was not a moment in almost two hours when the picture was not wholly diverting. Musically, "Follow the Boys," is running the full scale of personal none. It is traditionally American, tastes, from boogie-woogie to the pianistic genius of Artur Schnabel.

MARK TWAIN FILM AT A. & G. THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY

Starring Frederic March
And Alexis Smith

The fascinating saga of Mark Twain, a typically American story of this country's beloved and famous humorist, forms the background for the Warner Bros. film, "The Adventures of Mark Twain," Sunday and Monday at the A. & G. Theatre.

Starring Frederic March in the title role, the picture tells of Twain's boyhood against a Mississippi background and of his friendship with Tom Sawyer (Michael Miller) and Huckleberry Finn (Eugene Holland), three rafting explorers of the river, who hunt buried treasures and imaginary pirate's gold. The film goes along showing how the adventures of the river so intrigue Twain that he is lured away from his apprenticeship as a printer, learns to navigate, becomes a full fledged pilot, takes his own steamer down the river, falls in love with the photograph of a beautiful girl, Olivia Langdon, played by co-star Alexis Smith, of his determination to marry her, his quest for money to make this possible and of his recording of a frog jumping contest which inadvertently launches him on the road to literary fame.

Featured on the long and imposing list of supporting players are Donald Crisp, Alan Hale, C. Aubrey Smith, John Caradine, Bill Henry, Robert Barrat, Walter Hampden and Joyce Reynolds.

The film was directed by Irving Rapper and produced by Jesse L. Lasky. It was adapted by Alan LeMay, Harold M. Sherman and Harry Chandler from the screen play by Mr. LeMay. The original music was by Max Steiner.
